A Brief History of UMC

1851
The Minnesota Territorial Laws of 1851, chapter 3, establish the University of Minnesota (at what is now its Minneapolis campus) and vest its government in a Board of Regents. This statute was approved on February 25, 1851

1858
Minnesota becomes a state.

1879
The city of Crookston is incorporated.

1895
The Minnesota legislature appropriates $30,000 to procure equipment and to construct two experimental research farms, one at Morris and one at Crookston. The Great Northern Railway, under the guidance of James J. Hill, donates 476.61 acres. The Northwest Experiment Station is established.

1905
Minnesota legislature appropriates $15,000 to establish the Northwest School of Agriculture, a regional residential agricultural high school. The school provides training in "the technical and practical business of agriculture and in the art of homemaking." The term of schooling begins in October and ends in March to accommodate farm students.

1909
The first class graduates from the Northwest School of Agriculture.

1963
With the changing demands of the region and in the agriculture industry, it becomes apparent to state officials that a college-level technical educational institution is urgently needed. A study by the University of Minnesota Bureau of Field Studies begins an examination of new roles for the Northwest School of Agriculture. University Regents discuss launching a college-level technical institute.

1965
Dr. Stanley D. Sahlstrom is appointed head of the University of Minnesota Technical Institute to be located on the campus of the Northwest School of Agriculture in Crookston.

1966
Classes begin in September at the University of Minnesota Technical Institute. Associate in Applied Science degrees are offered in three academic divisions: Agriculture, Business, and General Studies. Dedication ceremonies for the new college are held on November 30, 1966. Students of the Northwest School of Agriculture and the U of M "Tech" share the campus through the spring of 1968.

1968
The final class of the Northwest School of Agriculture graduates in the school's 60th commencement ceremonies.

The first class graduates from the University of Minnesota Technical Institute, now an official coordinate campus of the University of Minnesota. (Renamed University of Minnesota Technical College in 1969.)

1985
Dr. Donald Sargeant is appointed provost of Crookston campus. The title for all coordinate campus chief executive officers is changed from provost to chancellor.

1988
University of Minnesota Regents officially change name of Crookston campus to University of Minnesota, Crookston.

1992
U of M Board of Regents gives UMC approval to offer baccalaureate degree programs at its June meeting.

1993
UMC's baccalaureate degree programs are approved by the Minnesota Higher Education Coordinating Board and accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools. Three academic divisions support the new polytechnic concept: Agricultural Management, Management, and Technical Studies. Classes for the baccalaureate degrees begin that fall.

In the fall UMC's technology component is also initiated, providing each full-time student with a notebook computer and pre-installed software.

1994
UMC's first bachelor of science degrees are awarded at commencement ceremonies. A small group of students had been working on a "3 + 1" degree agreement before UMC had been authorized to offer four-year degrees. In the spring of 1994, twenty-four students receive their B.S. degree at UMC.

1998
A new structure for Academic Affairs redefines program areas into four academic centers and one technology support center.

UMC is ranked third in "Best Midwest Regional Colleges" by US News for the 1998-99 year.

1999
UMC moves up to rank second in "Best Midwest Regional Colleges" by US News for the 1999-2000 year.

2000
Yahoo! Internet Life Magazine Online ranks UMC the "#1 Most Wired College" in its category (Baccalaureate II) for 2000.

UMC remains ranked at second in "Best Midwest Regional Colleges" by US News for the 2000-2001 year.

2001
UMC is honored with the "Pioneer Award" at the Fourth Annual Conference on Ubiquitous Computing, held January 4-6, 2001, at Seton Hall University in South Orange, New Jersey.

The Wall Street Journal calls UMC "The College of the Future—Today" in special section on technology and education that includes a full-page feature on UMC appearing in the Monday, March 12, edition.

2008 Season Outlook

In keeping with their tradition of geographic diversity, the 2008 University of Minnesota, Crookston Women's Soccer squad consists of players from not only Minnesota but also from Florida, Nevada, New Mexico, New York, Washington, Wisconsin and the Canadian Province of Ontario.

Leading the way for the Golden Eagles attack will be sophomores Megan Gibeault (Fwd., Green Bay, Wis.) and Kelsey Palmer (Fwd., Crookston, Minn.). Both Gibeault and Palmer led the team in total points with 18 last season. Gibeault tallied eight goals to lead the team in scoring in 2007. Also returning to the offensive punch is senior Richelle Copiak (Fwd./Mid., Calgary, Alberta, Canada) who scored one goal and added two assists. U of M, Crookston has added Ashley Sletten (Mid./Fwd., Glenwood, Minn.) who scored 46 career goals in high school and Brigham Young University-Idaho transfer Auralee Strege (Fwd., Forest Lake, Minn.) who led the league in goals scored for her club team.

In the midfield, expect to find more experience than youth this fall. Seniors Alyssa Jensen (Fwd./Mid., Def., Rice Lake, Wis.), Amber Erdmann (Mid./Fwd., Crookston, Minn.), junior Megan Hannon (Mid., Green Bay, Wis.) and last season's redshirt freshman Kasey Castor (Mid., Northglenn, Colo.) bring much experience to the midfield. In addition, junior college transfer and two-time All-Conference selection Justine Jones (Mid./Fwd., Richland, Wash.), who tallied over 20 goals and 20 assists in her two seasons at Walla Walla Community College, brings tremendous experience to the midfield. Redshirt freshman Emmy Peltier (Mid., Starbuck, Minn.) has also been added.

Defensively, the Golden Eagles retained the services of sophomores Alysia "Lucy" Lucero (Def., Albuquerque, N.M.) and Stephanie Lee (Def., Port Chester, N.Y.) who were both regular key starters from last season. However, with the graduation of All-Conference and NCAA Division II and U of M, Crookston record holder Kiely Bladow, Coach Przemieniecki has moved last season's midfielder and senior captain Vanessa Copiak (Mid., Calgary, Alberta, Canada) to the back. In addition, a group of talented freshmen will also be looked upon to help defend the Golden Eagle goal. Freshman Amanda Reiter (Mid./Fwd., Walker, Minn.), Kayla Wallis (Def., Lakeville, Minn.), Michelle Cavanaugh (Def., Las Vegas, Nev.) and redshirt Stephanie Moore (Def., St. Paul, Minn.) round out that group.

The goalkeeping duties rest squarely on the shoulders of three talented goalkeepers who have matured in net over the last two seasons. Sophomores Anna Ogaard (GK, Maple Grove, Minn.), Leyla Castillo (GK, Miami, Fla.) and junior Athena Mussenden (GK, Kenosha, Wis.) will all challenge for the starting position. Mussenden started seven games in 2007 and had a 1.90 Goals Against Average (GAA). Castillo started five games and posted a 2.18 GAA and Ogaard started four games and posted a 3.88 GAA.

The Golden Eagles made great progress in 2007 winning more games than the previous two seasons. With the addition of four new schools in the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference (NSIC), this fall will be a challenge for U of M, Crookston as they look to continue to climb up the conference ladder. The Golden Eagles open the season on the road on Sunday, August 31 in Kenosha, Wis. against non-conference foe Millikin University (IL) at 12:00 pm. The home opener takes place on Saturday, September 6 when U of M, Crookston plays host to the University of Wisconsin-Superior in a 2:00 pm non-conference contest.
